Retentions Reallocation - 2018

- ~2,000 requests - mostly either damage or results of inventories
- Reallocations still in process, you may be receiving a request to take on a small number of additional retentions
- Tombstone records in retentions db to have reason for reversal

Retentions Reallocation - 2019

- Email from Mei on May 2nd to East Operational contacts
- Updates to process to be reviewed by EAST Operations Committee at their June meeting
- New tools to be provided and to use current OCLC holdings data
- Can continue to use EASTreallocation@blc.org to request reallocations

GreenGlass Update: Merging Data Sets

OCLC has funding to merge EAST Cohort 1 & 2 data sets

Will give all current users access to ALL EAST data*

This may affect the results of some of your queries.

Timeline: PT in early August, Available to EAST Members late August
Current instances retired by mid-October

You will be hearing more from us on this as the summer progresses

* Retentions in GreenGlass are static and not updated as part of the reallocation requests.

Expanding the EAST Membership

- Executive Committee has opened the door
- Consortial models under consideration
- Currently in conversations at various levels of engagement
- No grant funding available to underwrite collection analysis
- OCLC SCS introduced Flexible Participation Model
 - Allows an individual library or group to join an existing program
 - Can compare to current EAST retentions to identify unique titles to retain as well as additional copies of more frequently used
 - EAST will be piloting with the US Coast Guard Academy this summer/fall
 - Open to other libraries who can pay full freight for GreenGlass to join

Another Collection Analysis Option

- Collection analysis is a requirement of joining EAST as a Monograph Retention Partner
- Can be done with GreenGlass from OCLC SCS using the Flexible Participation model
- BUT, for some libraries this is not feasible due to cost
- EAST investigating offering an alternative – Collection Analysis “Lite”
- In conversations with Colorado Alliance to use their GoldRush product

Advantages of working with GoldRush

- Allows EAST to act as the agent on behalf of EAST libraries to register retention commitments in WorldCat once new service is available.
- The Partnership for Shared Book Collections anticipates supporting an open database for monograph retention commitments – we can use the EAST MARC records to feed into this service as well as into WorldCat
- Once libraries no longer have access to GreenGlass, GoldRush could offer a tool to interested libraries who have collection management or analysis projects – EAST is investigating the feasibility of this
- However, our current EAST Retentions Database was built from GG and is NOT MARC

Taking the EAST Retentions Database to MARC

- MARC approach provides us with much more flexibility for future endeavors and ensures EAST data is up-to-date
- Will be asking EAST libraries to output their current EAST retention commitments (i.e. those with a 583 field) in MARC and providing to us
- EAST will provide documentation for the various ILS's and, if the library wishes, can also provide a list of OCLC numbers from the current EAST Retentions Database
- This will ensure we have up-to-date data on EAST monograph retentions to load into GoldRush and to provide the basis for further collections work

Partnership for Shared Book Collections

- Federation of monograph shared print programs in the U.S. and Canada
- Formed out of the second EAST-sponsored Summit
- Working Groups created to address
 - Business model and services to be offered
 - Membership model and governance
 - Open retention data
 - Best practices
 - Risk research
 - Outreach & Engagement
- Meeting planned for ALA Annual to get feedback from the broader library community – on Friday, following PAN

EAST Updates

- Annual Member Meeting: Monday, October 28th in Boston
 - Stay tuned for call for presentations in the summer!
- Executive Committee Elections Update:
 - Slate finalized, voting takes place starting the week of June 3rd.
- Operations Committee Elections Update:
 - Nominations still being accepted, voting will begin when the EC elections close.
