Serials & Journals: Rosemont Last Known Copy Initiative

- Rosemont Last Known Copy Initiative seeking to secure commitments to titles only held by one Rosemont participating libraries and for which there is only one copy reported in OCLC (U.S. holdings) - 61,538 titles
- Conducted pilot project with libraries representing various programs and projected participation levels - Pitt, Lafayette, & UMass Amherst (EAST participants)

Serials & Journals: Last Known Copy Initiative - Pilot Results & Next Steps

- Willingness to commit to unique content
- Some libraries chose to retain titles at this time without further analysis or investigation
- ‘Errant’ titles included monographic series, brief records, cataloging errors, reprints, withdrawn titles, titles widely held in Europe and titles in Special Collections

Rosemont EC approved expanding initiative to other Rosemont participating libraries - will be inviting EAST Serial and Journal Retention Partners to May meeting to discuss

Serials & Journals: JRNL

- 21 EAST libraries have confirmed their willingness to use the online journal gap filling tool JRNL
- Libraries can expose volume gaps in their retention commitments, with the goal that other libraries who hold these gaps will consider donating the volumes to fill the gap
- JRNL training session scheduled for May 3rd, 2021
- Future opportunities for EAST libraries to participate

Special Collections Working Group

- EAST is forming a Special Collections Working Group tasked with making recommendations to the Executive Committee regarding expanding the scope of the EAST collection to titles in special collections locations
