What is Shared Print?

Shared Print and Shared Print Programs are collaborations among libraries to distribute the responsibility for maintaining collections, allowing partner libraries to reserve valuable space for materials that aren't available electronically, or for print items that are in high demand.

Over 23 million books retained!

That's around 3,276 miles of books which would reach from Maine to California.

More Space for You!

Sharing print copies between libraries means more space in libraries for other uses like meetings and technology.

It's not just books, libraries are preserving and sharing journals and magazines too.

Over 600,000 retained!

Shared Print Creates a Collective Collection

Collective collections combine the resources of libraries, creating more content for users to explore.

Keeping the Print

In an age of digital materials, shared print programs make sure the older rarer print materials stick around.

The EAST Mission

Securing the scholarly record in support of teaching, learning and research

Goals: Maximize retention commitments and facilitate access

EAST

Some EAST Definitions:

Retention Partners: Dues paying member institutions who agree to keep and provide access to titles they were allocated to retain during their collection analysis process. Can be individual or consortia.

Supporting Partners: Dues paying member institutions who support and value the work of EAST but cannot commit to retain titles; they are represented in EAST's governance. Can be individual or consortia.

Retained/Retention Commitments: Titles libraries agree to keep and loan (or otherwise provide access to) in order to preserve the scholarly record.

Disclosure/Registration: The act of updating the records of retained titles by incorporating a “Committed to Retain” note in the MARC 583 field. This is done in the institution's ILS, in OCLC, and in PAPER (for serials/journals retentions) and facilitates discovery of shared print retentions. Marc records for retained titles are also loaded into Gold Rush which serves as an EAST Retentions Database.

The EAST Business Model

- EAST member libraries pay an annual membership fee based on collection size (at the time of joining). Consortia discounts are available when libraries join together.
- In addition to the annual operating budget, EAST maintains a reserve fund to facilitate subsidy of collection analysis work and support special projects approved by the Board of Directors.
- EAST began as a grant funded project sponsored by the Boston Library Consortium. EAST is now incorporated as a 501(c)(3) and an independent program.
- EAST staff work virtually with the Director who reports to the EAST Board of Directors

Major Policies and Procedures

All of EAST's collection analysis and retention work is guided by the EAST Membership Agreement (MOU) which is signed by all member libraries.

Also on the eastlibraries.org website:

- General Governance Policies
- EAST Members' Rights and Responsibilities
- Major Operating Policies
  - Supplemented by documentation on replacing retention commitments for lost, missing or damaged items and Best Practices for Inter-Library Loan
  - Includes an FAQ on common questions relating to retention commitments

EAST Governance: Your Opportunity

Board of Directors

- Governing body
- Nominated by the membership through their Voting Members
- Representative by type and size of library
- Staggered three year terms
- Includes two Executive Committees: Finance and Personnel

Operations Committee (OC)

- Charged with addressing issues relating to operationalizing EAST policies
- Nominated by the membership
- Representative by type and size of library
- Staggered two year terms

Working Groups – Ad hoc representative groups focused on specific aspects of a project – e.g. Collection Analysis Working Group & Resource Sharing Task Force

Monographs Collection Analysis

Retention Partners joining EAST carry out a collection analysis using one of two tools: GreenGlass (from OCLC) or Gold Rush (from the Colorado Alliance of Research Libraries). The first 60 libraries to join EAST used GreenGlass; since then some new members and consortia have preferred to use Gold Rush for their collection analysis.

During this process, libraries with support from the EAST Program Team:

- Load their MARC records into the tools (can include only circulating collections/locations).
- Compare their local records to the EAST collective collection of retention commitments to determine uniqueness and overlap resulting in a retention model for the library's collection.
- Review an initial allocations list that includes the titles they are asked to retain and finalize their local retention commitments.
- Register commitments in the appropriate databases.

The EAST Monograph Retention Model - Pre-2011 Titles

- Retain all scarcely held – includes unique titles and those with limited holdings in WorldCat (if comparison with WorldCat is feasible)
- Retain up to 5 copies to accommodate expanded geography and risk model
- Exclude “ephemera” and limited to titles published prior to 2011

Journal Retention

- Thirty-two of the EAST members are Serials and Journals Retention Partners. Two retain journal titles only.
- The journal collection analysis was carried out with the support of the Center for Research Libraries, which worked with the EAST Program Team to develop a phased methodology to identify titles held by 4-6 participating libraries, then 7-28, and lastly, titles held by 3 or fewer libraries. This work yielded ~27K retained titles.
- Subsequent participation in the Rosemont Last Known Copy Initiative has increased this number to over 37K holdings.

Details of this work can be found in the EAST Serials & Journals Collection Analysis and Retention Modeling 2016-2019 document.

Reallocation Process

Twice yearly call for libraries to request reallocation of retained titles that can no longer be retained (because they are out of scope - in which case the retention is removed and not reallocated - due to loss, change in lending status, etc).

Once a year, we send out to the libraries the lists of titles that have been requested for reallocation and which are held (but not retained) at other EAST libraries.

Libraries then let us know if they can retain those new titles and update their ILS and WorldCat accordingly. These changes would also be reflected in the annual Gold Rush data update request.

The Center for Research Libraries promotes opportunities for knowledgeable individuals at libraries and consortia to share information, expertise and best practices on the strategic management of print holdings. The Print Archive Network (PAN) Forums are venues for this kind of information sharing. The semi-annual PAN Forum has been held since 2009. It occurs the Friday morning before ALA's annual and midwinter conferences. Everyone with an interest in print archiving is welcome to attend and participate in the Forums.

Onboarding Documentation

EAST has an abundance of documentation on the website, including onboarding documentation and information geared towards the following staff groups:

- Administrators
- Collections
- Resource Sharing, which includes links to the Best Practices

From the FAQ:

What does an EAST retention commitment mean?

A retention commitment means that the retaining library is committed to retain the title and provide access through June 30, 2031.* This includes replacing the title if lost or damaged.

How do I know what monographs are retained?

Retentions are recorded in your local ILS (most likely in a MARC 583 field), Gold Rush**, and OCLC's FirstSearch.

**This date may be extended.*

\*Ask the Project Team for login information.*

The value of EAST

"EAST offers essential assurances to our faculty that we are invested in the print record and ensuring its accessibility to current and future scholars."

--Anna Gold, University Librarian, Worcester Polytechnic Institute
