What is Shared Print?

Shared Print and Shared Print Programs are collaborations among libraries and groups of libraries to distribute the responsibility for protecting and preserving print collections, allowing partner libraries to repurpose library space while making available the program’s collective collection to local faculty, students and scholars.

By working together, libraries can collect and maintain curated sets of print books and journals which are broadly useful and make them collectively available to readers.

The EAST Mission

Securing the scholarly record in support of teaching, learning and research

Goals: Maximize retention commitments and facilitate access
Some EAST Definitions:

Retention Partners: Dues paying member institutions who agree to keep and provide access to titles they were allocated to retain during their collection analysis process. Can be individual or consortia.

Supporting Partners: Dues paying member institutions who support and value the work of EAST but cannot commit to retain titles; they are represented in EAST’s governance. Can be individual or consortia.

Retained/Retention Commitments: Titles libraries agree to keep and loan (or otherwise provide access to) in order to preserve the scholarly record.

Disclosure/Registration: The act of updating the records of retained titles by incorporating a “Committed to Retain” note in the MARC 583 field. This is done in the institution’s ILS, in OCLC, and in PAPR (for serials/journals retentions) and facilitates discovery of shared print retentions. Marc records for retained titles are also loaded into Gold Rush which serves as an EAST Retentions Database.

The EAST Business Model

- EAST member libraries pay an annual membership fee based on collection size (at the time of joining). Consortia discounts are available when libraries join together.
- In addition to the annual operating budget, EAST maintains a reserve fund to facilitate subsidy of collection analysis work and support special projects approved by the Board of Directors.
- EAST began as a grant funded project sponsored by the Boston Library Consortium. EAST is now incorporated as a 501(c)(3) and an independent program.
- EAST staff work virtually with the Program Director who reports to the EAST Board of Directors.
Major Policies and Procedures

All of EAST’s collection analysis and retention work is guided by the EAST Membership Agreement (MOU) which is signed by all member libraries.

Also on the eastlibraries.org website:
- General Governance Policies
- EAST Members’ Rights and Responsibilities
- Major Operating Policies
  - Supplemented by documentation on replacing retention commitments for lost, missing or damaged items and Best Practices for Inter-Library Loan
  - Includes an FAQ on common questions relating to retention commitments
EAST Governance: Your Opportunity

Board of Directors

• Governing body
• Nominated by the membership through their Voting Members
• Representative by type and size of library
• Staggered three year terms
• Includes two Executive Committees: Finance and Personnel

Operations Committee (OC)

• Charged with addressing issues relating to operationalizing EAST policies
• Nominated by the membership
• Representative by type and size of library
• Staggered two year terms

Working Groups – Ad hoc representative groups focused on specific aspects of a project – e.g. Resource Sharing Working Group.
Retention Partners joining EAST carry out a collection analysis using one of two tools: GreenGlass (from OCLC) or Gold Rush (from the Colorado Alliance of Research Libraries). The first 60 libraries to join EAST used GreenGlass; since then some new members and consortia have preferred to use Gold Rush for their collection analysis.

During this process, libraries with support from the EAST Program Team:

- Load their MARC records into the tools (can include only circulating collections/locations).
- Compare their local records to the EAST collective collection of retention commitments to determine uniqueness and overlap resulting in a retention model for the library’s collection.
- Review an initial allocations list that includes the titles they are asked to retain and finalize their local retention commitments.
- Register commitments in the appropriate databases.
The EAST Monograph Retention Model

The retention model has evolved to reflect the size of EAST and to take into consideration the results of our validation sampling with Cohorts 1 and 2. The basic model is as follows, adapted to the tool libraries choose to use:

• Retain all scarcely held – includes unique titles and those with limited holdings in WorldCat (if comparison with WorldCat is feasible)
• Retain up to 5 of frequently used and to accommodate expanded geography
• Retain an additional copy of titles published pre-1900 (based on validation research on condition)
• Exclude “ephemera” and limited to titles published prior to 2011*

* To be updated with collection analysis work in 2023/2024
Serials and Journals

- Thirty-two of the EAST members are Serials and Journals Retention Partners. Two retain serials titles only.
- The journal collection analysis was carried out with the support of the Center for Research Libraries, which worked with the EAST Project Team to develop a phased methodology to identify titles held by 4-6 participating libraries, then 7-28, and lastly, titles held by 3 or fewer libraries. This work yielded ~27K retained titles.
- Subsequent participation in the Rosemont Last Known Copy Initiative have increased this number to over 37K holdings.

Details of this work can be found in the EAST Serials & Journals Collection Analysis and Retention Modeling 2016-2019 document.

• Ongoing registration of new commitments in OCLC and PAPR
• Collaboration with the Partnership for Shared Book Collections (monographs) and the Rosemont Shared Print Alliance (serials/journals), particularly as they consider merging
• Creating an HBCU cohort as part of the IMLS grant funded work
• Exploring a Resource Sharing community of practice
• Exploring how to support lesser resourced members
Recording Retentions in 583 field

Shared Print Programs use the 583 field to record retentions.

Finding EAST Commitments

Monograph & Serial Commitments:

OCLC - Connexion, Record/Collection Manager, FirstSearch and various APIs. See "Functionality across services" doc.

Searchbox available from the homepage of eastlibraries.org - Data pulls from the OCLC API.

Gold Rush - contact Sara (samato@eastlibraries.org) if you need a login. Data is updated yearly.

GreenGlass - If your library maintains a subscription you can search EAST retention commitments in GreenGlass. Data is updated regularly.

Serials Commitments Only:

Print Archives Preservation Registry (PAPR)

Note that PAPR also hosts a Collection Comparison Tool which allows for an upload of a list of local record numbers to generate an instant comparison with the PAPR archived titles registry.
Reallocation Process

Twice yearly call for libraries to request reallocation of retained titles that can no longer be retained (because they are out of scope - in which case the retention is removed and not reallocated - due to loss, change in lending status, etc).

Once a year, we send out to the libraries the lists of titles that have been requested for reallocation and which are held (but not retained) at other EAST libraries.

Libraries then let us know if they can retain those new titles and update their ILS and WorldCat accordingly. These changes would also be reflected in the annual Gold Rush data update request.

• Holdings data for approx. 3.5 million titles currently being indexed in Gold Rush collection comparison tool.
• Anticipate starting the collection analysis work in late November/early December.
• Collection Analysis Working Group will be developing recommendations for what material should be prioritized for retention and how many copies of material should be retained across the EAST group.

- Reciprocal retention agreement:
  "whereby all participants in the Rosemont Alliance agree and affirm that all holdings retained by their respective programs are also retained under the Rosemont Shared Print Alliance and, by definition, subject to the Rosemont shared policies or guidelines, including the Access Principles"
Impact of Rosemont on EAST - Access

• Guaranteed access to over 210,000 titles retained by fellow Rosemont libraries
  “Participants agree to make Rosemont Alliance archived materials available to other Rosemont members. Archived material is eligible for lending to institutions outside of the Alliance per the holding library’s lending relationships and policies.”

“By creating a collaborative collection which elevates the concept of a library collection to scale above a single institution, shared print programs help research libraries to fulfill their mission to preserve the scholarly record in an era of changing usage, limited funding, and space constraints.”
EAST has an abundance of documentation on the website, including onboarding documentation and information geared towards the following staff groups:

- Administrators
- Collections
- Resource Sharing, which includes links to the Best Practices
- Technical Services

all these resources are available via eastlibraries.org/member-resources or directly at eastlibraries.org/onboarding.
From the FAQ:

What does an EAST retention commitment mean?
A retention commitment means that the retaining library is committed to retain the title and provide access through June 30, 2031.* This includes replacing the title if lost or damaged.

How do I know what monographs are retained?
Retentions are recorded in your local ILS (most likely in a MARC 583 field), Gold Rush, and OCLC’s FirstSearch.

*This date may be extended.
Ask the Project Team for login information.
